Appeal Of Condo Bylaw Ruling May Be Dropped

By Sue Aucella Deacon

At the urging of Washington Park residents who appeared before them Monday night, the selectmen may drop their appeal against the attorney general's ruling that the town's condominium conversion bylaw is invalid. The board decided to take the question under advisement and discuss it with legal counsel.

The selectmen were presented with a petition signed by 406 townspeople, more than 80 of them Washington Park residents, asking the board to withdraw their litigation against the attorney general's ruling.

Ironically, it was residents of that North Main Street apartment complex — now under new ownership and headed for condo conversion — who fought hardest for the condominium bylaw at the annual town meeting two months ago.

Boston Atty. Jeffrey Freedman, representing Washington Park's new owners, Cohen Properties, Inc., of Brookline, told the board 81 current tenants plan to buy their units as condominiums. The units were offered to tenants at a 12 percent discount.

Of the remaining units, 70 will be purchased by non-tenants, the attorney said, and three are still unsold. None of the non-tenants plan to move into the condominiums, he said, but will allow the current tenants to remain there as renters.

The bylaw as developed by the selectmen would require developers to obtain a Zoning Board of Appeals special permit to convert rental units into condos. The article was amended on the floor of town meeting to include a one-year notice period before tenants could be evicted from their apartments.

But Attorney General Francis X. Bellotti declared the bylaw illegal, ruling that it is not within the town's power to impose that restriction on developers.

Town Counsel Atty. Alfred Daniels has filed an appeal in Essex Superior Court. He said Monday that the case might be heard in the state Supreme Judicial Court.

To Make Assessments Public

The new assessments on Andover homes recently completed by the PRC Jacobs revaluation firm may be made public in November, the selectmen indicated Monday night.

Board members said they would consider publishing the assessments after Oct. 31, when they have been certified by the state, to give homeowners an idea of how their assessments compare to other valuations in town.

At that point homeowners will be receiving their tax bills, Acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi said, which they may appeal to the Board of Assessors. Unresolved problems may then be appealed to the state Appellate Tax Board, he said.

Homeowners have been pouring into the PRC Jacobs office at town hall this week to appeal their preliminary valuations, which were mailed out last week. Residents were given 10 days to call the revaluation firm for an appointment to discuss the valuations.

When this initial appeals period ends, the values will be certified by the state, and the tax rate will be set, probably in early November, the acting manager explained, when homeowners can begin to expect their tax bills.

Selectmen Have New Arrangement

Townpeople who attended Monday night's selectmen's meeting at Memorial Hall Library may have noticed a slightly new look to the board's seating arrangements.

In an effort to make the board look a little less formidable during regular public meetings and hearings, the selectmen's desks have been moved down from the platforms that used to raise them a few inches above floor level. And the desks, once lined up in a fashion that prompted one selectman to liken them to the Great Wall of China, have been moved into a zig-zag pattern.

The selectmen recently voted to hold their regular meetings at town hall, rather than the library. The larger library meeting room will be used only when a large audience is expected, as was the case Monday night, when a crowd of residents appeared to discuss the town's condominium conversion by-law.

Licenses, Permits Approved

During a regular meeting of the selectmen Monday night at Memorial Hall Library, the board granted a number of one-day, all alcoholic beverage licenses and permits for excavation in town streets, and authorized several sewer connections.

The Christian Formation Center, River Road, was granted the alcoholic beverage licenses for a dinner dance, 6 p.m. to 1 a.m., Sept. 25; a wedding reception, 2 to 9 p.m., Sept. 26; a wedding reception, 3 p.m. to 12 a.m., Oct. 2; a wedding reception, 1 to 10 p.m., Oct. 3; a wedding reception, 2 to 11 p.m., Oct. 10; a wedding reception, 3 p.m. to 12 a.m., Oct. 11; a 25th anniversary party, 6 p.m. to 1 a.m., Oct. 16; a dinner, 4 p.m. to 12 a.m., Oct. 24; and a high school reunion, 4 p.m. to 1 a.m.,

Oct. 31.

Bay State Gas Co. was granted permission to excavate at 41 Pine St., to install new gas service; at 14-16 Harding St. to replace gas service; and at 64 Chestnut St., 30 Wolcott Ave., 69 Carmel Road, 18 Avon St., 2 Bannister Road, 305 North Main St., 16 Cedar Road, 28 Wolcott Ave., Shawsheen Road and Andover Street at Bannister Road to repair gas mains.

And, acting as sewer commissioners, the selectmen approved sewer connections for seven house lots in the new Heritage Estates development off Andover Street, 2 Chestnut St., the Hewlett-Packard sales building on Minuteman Road, 71R River Street and the Doherty school, now being renovated into Doherty Junior High.

New Manager Approved For Valle's

A new manager has been named for Valle's Steak House on River Road. The selectmen Monday night approved Robert Cyr of Methuen as the new manager.

The selectmen offered their best wishes to Cyr, who said he has worked for Valle's for ten years, and in the Andover restaurant for four years.

"I always like to see somebody get a promotion," Selectman Jerry Silverman remarked.

Hart At Advanced Army Camp

Most cadets fulfill their advanced camp requirement during the summer between their junior and senior years in college. The successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from their respective college or university will result in the student's being commissioned a second lieutenant in the active Army or the U.S. Army Reserve or National Guard.

Hart is a student at Valley Forge College, Wayne, Pa.

Vehicle Inspection To Begin

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin says the six-week autumn semi-annual motor vehicle inspection, which starts Sept. 1 and runs through Thursday, Oct. 15, will be a rigorous one for the owners of the 3½ million registered motor vehicles and motorcycles.

"I caution the owners to get their vehicles to one of the 4,200 Registry approved state inspection stations as soon as possible," Registrar McLaughlin said.

The Registrar said that after the spring inspection period ended, nearly 2,000 citations were issued to motorists who had failed to obey the law.

The fall sticker, green in color, costs $2 with a charge of 50 cents for trailers. Those not passing will be marked with a rejection sticker.

McLaughlin also urges operators to perform a "personal inspection" prior to driving to a Registry approved station.

"Turn on all the lights, walk around the car, make sure all bulbs are working. Have someone stand to the side and check the brake lights. Set the handbrake and test it yourself. You may be able to catch minor breakdowns in equipment before arriving at the station and being rejected," McLaughlin added.

Inspection includes brakes, lights, horn, exhaust system, steering, windshield and wipers, number plates, rear window, tires, fenders, bumpers, external sheet-metal and the factory installed pollution control system. Inspection of reflectors, chock blocks and splash guards is included on trucks.

Motor vehicle owners are warned the vehicle must have no signs or decals on either the front or rear window except the inspection sticker itself, which must be affixed to the lower right corner of the windshield, whether the vehicle is right or left hand drive. Also no ornaments may hang from the inside rearview mirror.

Reports From The Playgrounds

Ballardvale

Monday morning at the Ballardvale playground the kids enjoyed a donut and orange juice breakfast. Shannon Cassidy and Scott Jangro enjoyed a game of four square. Cathy and Angie Giuliani, Judi Jangre, Michael Gibbons and Lisa Hayes came up with some very attractive push pin decorators. Coleen Sherry and Amanda Hughes made some interesting pictures with glue. Tuesday Michelle Bolin, Beth Ross and Shannon Cassidy enjoyed a visit to the Shawsheen playground. They enjoyed a rousing game of Capture the Flag, led by Amy "Jason" Ross. Wednesday 11 of the playgrounders, including Kristen Heller, Cindy and Coleen Sherry, Beth Ross, and the Hughes crew went on the Crane's Beach field trip. Back at the playground the kids enjoyed four square, Dizzy Izzy, Wonderball and Time Bomb. Of course, the annual trip to PJ's was a must for the day. Thursday Judi Jangro, Lisa Hayes, Beth Ross, Todd Hughes, Katie Roberts and Amanda Hughes came up with some colorful creations in clay dough. Friday was the first annual 60s day at the playground when everyone dressed up in colorful tie-dye t-shirts made earlier in the playground season. The week ended with another cookout.

Bancroft

Monday got off to a creative start with the making of beautiful ornaments out of dough. Some of the helpful artists were Greg DeBeer, Eric and Sonia Behling, Julie and Mark Cutler, Jordana Wilner and Kristen Murphy. Wednesday the main event of the day was the sand castle building contest at Ipswich's Crane's Beach. Some of the helpers were Darlene and Steve Porockniack, Garrett Day, Hila Horavitz, Justin Townsend, Sharon, Joey and Jennifer Hastings, and Jeff Grace. Thursday started with Scott DiGregorio, the Saalfunks, the Kirkiles, and Barry Connors showing exceptional skills in floor hockey. Justin Connors thrilled us all with his pet mouse. Everyone showed their true hidden talents when we made chocolate delights. Some of the chefs were Liz and Ryan Hanson, Kirsten Beigel, Naama and Hila Horovitz, Andrew and Melissa Rup, Meagan and Cara O'Handelley.

Sanborn

Sanborn playground was the hot spot on Lovejoy Road this week. Games were played the early part of the week. Touch football was thrilling and exciting with Steve Colitz, Jeff Kuo and Nick Lembo throwing dazzling touchdowns. During kick and run Sean Gauthier and Mike McCarthy maneuvered past everyone to score a couple of runs.

Crane's Beach was a sandy experience, making the Muppet Caper Balloon molding sand, colored chalk and plenty of hard work. The construction crew consisted of Doug and Steve Howes, Andy Bedell, Craig DerAnanian, Mike Pierro, Mike and Todd Blaustein, Craig Knight, Stephanie and Jeff Kuo.

Preparations were made for Parent's Day Breakfast and the Breakup party for this week during Friday's cookout.

Shawsheen

The seventh week of playground came and left just as excitingly as the first six. Monday, soccer was the predominant activity. Ed Whitton brought a six-foot ball and it gave a new definition to the sport. Tuesday hockey was played with the visiting Ballardvale playground. Despite the small population at both Shawsheen and Ballardvale, the two playgrounds continue to be two of the best. Wednesday the majority of the playground went to

But because of school changes it seems unlikely that we can continue at that location, but there will be another place for us, we're sure.

Tuesday, Sept. 22, you will have an opportunity to travel to the Eastern States Exposition in West Springfield. The bus will leave at 8 a.m. and return about 6 p.m. The $10.50 fee will cover a lovely scenic ride to the fairgrounds as well as the cost of admission. After that, you're on your own. This annual event is always interesting and exciting, so you will want to sign up now.

Among the mini-trips sponsored by the Andover Council on Aging are the following:

Thursday, Aug. 27. Tea-time at the Codman House in Lincoln, $5, including tea and scones at this lovely historic restoration, leaving Andover 1 p.m.

Thursday, Sept. 3. The Transportation Museum at Museum Wharf in Boston, $5, leaving Andover 1 p.m.

Wednesday, Sept. 9. The Textile Museum in North Andover, $2.50, leaving Andover 12:30 p.m.

These mini-trips are exactly that, visiting areas of local interest with numbers limited to those who fit in The Haven van. Sign up early.

A series of slide shows is being prepared for the fall. Watch for details.

There will be NO MINI CLINIC Aug. 18 and 25. However, an Elderly Health nurse and Sally Healy, R.N. will be available for consultation Wednesday, Aug. 19 and 26, from 2 to 3 p.m. at The Haven.

Daytime Courses

Individuals who have considered returning to school and find daytime classes more advantageous may register this fall at Merrimack College as part-time day students.

A full range of liberal arts, business and engineering programs are offered and guidance with course selection is available through the Division of Continuing Education between now and registration.

Registration for part-time day students is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 1, from 1:15 to 1:55 p.m. Students should report at that time to the Dean of Continuing Education in the Volpe Physical Education Center. Day classes will begin Sept. 2.

Cushing Gym Sold After Financing Request Reduced

The Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium in Shawsheen Village has been sold to three local doctors for renovation into 18 professional and business offices, after the doctors returned to the Industrial Development Finance Authority with a request for $600,000 in industrial revenue financing.

The IDFA has given preliminary approval to the financing request, greatly reduced from the doctors' original request for $1.4 million to renovate the town-owned building, located on the corner of Haverhill and Argyle streets. The financing is scheduled to come before the selectmen for their preliminary approval as well.

Drs. Sanford Kaufman, Joseph Guerra and Mark Abelson signed a $65,000 sale agreement with the town a year ago, after 1980 town meeting authorized the sale of the brick building. The gymnasium was once part of the former Sacred Heart school and, in an earlier incarnation, was the popular Crystal Ballroom. It has been vacant for a number of years.

The selectmen and IDFA last month expressed some concern that the sale might not be completed, because the doctors had not answered requests for additional explanations of why they needed $1.4 million to renovate the building.

The officials had given preliminary approval of that amount "reluctantly" last spring, and wanted more information before they gave their final approval, IDFA Chairman Dr. Lawrence Spiegel explained.

The sale was finalized after the doctors returned to the IDFA with an amended preliminary financing proposal, reflecting some changes in their plans for the building. Acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi reported to the selectmen Monday night.

The building is eligible for state CARD

(Commercial Area Revitalization District) funding, because Shawsheen Village has been declared Andover's first CARD district. With the approval of the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Authority, the new owners may be able to obtain CARD revenue bonding at a low interest rate.

Spiegel credits the doctors with accomplishing much of the groundwork needed to have Shawsheen declared a CARD district.

According to a proposal from Dr. Kaufman describing the Andover Professional Center, as the building will be called, it will be designed to meet "the exceptional demand in Andover for first class office space."

The entire building will be renovated, including the basement area, the proposal states. The remodeling will include a new roof, "a new window system to provide for energy conservation," and offices on the first floor, in the basement, and in the mezzanine area.

The total area in the building will be 17,668 square feet, with a total net office area of 15,754 square feet. The three partners plan to move their offices into three individual suites when the building is finished, occupying a total of 3,612 square feet.

Kaufman's proposal says the partners have also acquired two adjacent lots of approximately 14,000 square feet, which will be developed into a parking area to serve the offices.

The doctors expect to rent office space for $12 to $12.50 per square foot, according to the proposal. "The renovations are intended to be first class," it states, "and the building made attractive to tenants which will increase the number of people employed in the area."

Crane's Beach to see who could build the best sand castle. Despite gallant efforts by all, no one could come up with a winner. On Thursday the Shawsheen marathoners went out again to visit West and Sanborn. Some of the marathoners were Ann Marie Charland, Vicki and Peter Arthur, Anna and Tommy O'Day, Chris Harding and Laurie Lussier. Back at the playground, paint was the name of the game. Any place that did not have paint on it, does now. Some of the artists were Julie and Jeff Arsenault and David Charland.

South

The second to last week was filled with excitement and fun. Monday was Italian Day with spaghetti for lunch. Michelle Gorton and Anne Murnane helped make delicious homemade sauce. Big eaters included Scott Henry and Joey Liguori. Tuesday was the annual Toga party. We danced to Saturday Night Fever with Betsy Frankenberger singing along. Tracy Lee won the best all around toga with Elisa Derby winning terrific toga and Jonah Corneau with the best wreath. Wednesday everyone managed to come back from Crane's Beach with a tan and a few sunburns. Elisa and Aimee Wilson were water bugs, while Amy Smith built her own sand castle with Michael Henry's help. Thursday most of the kids went on a bike hike to Rec. Park. Aron Johnson and Chip Curdo were monkeys on the equipment while Suzanne Gianelly and Leigh Ann Catanzaro seemed to like the lunch better.

The week ended with a cookout and lots of fun.

West

The second to last week was busy and fun-filled. Monday pot holders were made. A few of the top weavers included Adam Ruma, Carol Reid and Holly Ruma. A fast paced kickball game was also a favorite on Monday. Kickball stars included Sean Sperber, Eric and Ian Begg, and Andy

Cohen. Tuesday, placemat weaving was the craft. Some of the prettiest placemats were made by Jennifer Milne, Layne Whitely, Debbie Flashenburg and Jennifer Segal. Volleyball and soccer were favorite games Tuesday. Marc and Keith Selvittili, Adam Ruma, Craig Flashenburg, Bret Green and Dana and Matt Orlando were the outstanding scorers. Wednesday 37 excited playgrounders from West headed to Crane's Beach. The super day was highlighted by splash fights and the sand castle contest. All the Andover kids produced a huge hot air balloon with Kermit and Fozzie inside. Everyone did their very best and the result was a beautiful sand sculpture. Jason Weiner, Herrin Hoffmand, Suzie Harrtigan, Tricia Smith, Marc and Keith Selvittili, Heather Paro were just a few of the sand construction crew. Holly Ruma was buried in the sand by her friends to add a different type sand castle to the beach. Thursday brought with it

Parents' Ice Cream Buffet. Parents and children alike enjoyed creating and eating ice cream masterpieces. Friday was Birthday Day when everyone's birthday was celebrated with a cake and a present exchange. Everyone had a great birthday.

Bancroft Pre-School

Can you believe the summer is almost over? This was the seventh week of playground and a super week. A fairy tale land was visited on Tuesday and everyone brought their favorite fairy tale to read. Hide-and-Seek seems to be "the game". There are so many neat places to hide around the Bancroft Castle. Clothespin people were the rage on Monday and everyone created wonderful outfits for them. Wednesday the finger paints were brought out to almost paint the town red. There are some really lucky moms wearing the beautiful beaded bracelets that were made on Wednesday. Thursday we exercised our patience and bean-by-bean, we made bean bags. They were well worth the time and effort since we really loved playing with them.

Six New ABC Students Due

Andover ABC welcomes six new students this September. They will be studying at Andover High, four as sophomores and two as juniors. Those entering ABC's residential college-preparatory program for gifted minority students include sophomores, Sherry Cunningham of Newark, N.J., Wai Gee Chu, Ian Dowe and Melvin Thomas from Chester, PA.

Sherry Cunningham, who is musically inclined, plays both piano and organ and sings in her church chor. She comes to Andover from the science high school of Newark where, in addition to her academic subjects, she enjoyed playing basketball and other sports.

Wai Gee Chu, the editor of the school newspaper at Wade Junior High in New York, has particular interest in social studies and science, plays the flute, and, besides the Chinese spoken in his family, is communicative in Spanish and English, which he learned simultaneously. He has already participated in a preparatory course for the ABC program at his school.

Ian Dowe, whose ambition is to attend the Air Force Academy, displays, according to his teachers, special enthusiasm for history and current events. He recently played a lead role in Stitt Junior High's production of "The King and I" and his interests range from making models to playing basketball. He is enthusiastic about the possibility for serious, disciplined study in the ABC program.

Melvin Thomas skipped a grade in junior high while learning both Spanish and English, his native language being Hindi. Known to his teachers for his considerable appetite for school work, his goal is to become a doctor. Stamp collecting keeps him in contact with relatives and friends in other places.

Brian Bussey, an incoming junior, finds writing a creative outlet. He plans a career in law. At Lincoln Academy in Kansas City he enjoyed baseball as a stimulus to his sense of competition.

John Harper, a clarinet-player who composes his own music and a member of the swimming team at West Philadelphia High, was in the honors program at his school. A builder of model rockets and member of the school Air Patrol, he plans to become a commercial pilot following training in the Air Force.

The new students will be welcomed by members of the ABC board and friends of ABC on Sept. 1 from 7 to 9 p.m. at ABC House. They will join returning seniors, Valerie Holdip, Carol James, Diana Ramirez, Raymond Tirado and Joseph Smith. The 11 students who reside at 134 Main St. under the supervision of ABC House directors, Tanya and Robert Keith, are part of a group of students stretching back nearly 15 years in Andover ABC. The program, designed to prepare well-motivated and academically-promising minority students for entrance into competitive colleges, stresses growth toward the mature responsibility needed for sustaining college work through close interaction and cooperation with fellow students and house staff and host families in the community. Andover ABC is entirely funded from private sources including individual gifts and pledges, foundations and area businesses.

It also receives personal support of time and skills from people in hosting, college advising, tutoring, counseling and recreational activities. Resident tutors provide assistance on school work, but adult members of the Andover community are encouraged to volunteer for weekly hours of tutoring in areas of their competence, especially mathematics, science and languages. Anyone interested should contact Irving Gershenberg.

ABC also receives donations of furnishings and equipment upon special request. Currently ABC House needs a lawn mower. Anyone interested in donating should contact Stanley Martin.

Andover Woman Named Dean At Merrimack

Justine Juarez of Andover, acting dean of Merrimack College's Division of Continuing Education, has been named dean of that division, according to an announcement by the Rev. John E. Deegan, college president.

At the same time, Prof. Vincent J. Lonardo, chairman of the college's accounting and finance department, was named dean of the Division of Business Administration.

Juarez's deanship begins immediately and Lonardo assumes his new position Sept. 1. Both appointments are for three-year terms.

Juarez has held administrative positions in Merrimack's Division of Continuing Education for seven years. She came to Merrimack in 1974 and served as assistant dean of continuing education until 1976, when she was appointed coordinator of summer sessions, a position she still holds. Under her direction, summer session enrollment at Merrimack has increased approximately 70 percent in four years.

From 1978 to 1980 Juarez was also acting assistant dean of continuing education and in 1980 she was named acting dean of Merrimack's evening division.

She is a member of the Association for Continuing Higher Education and the North American Association of Summer Sessions.

Before coming to Merrimack, she was a high school teacher, a women's program director for a local radio station, and an employee in the Color Research division of the Eastman Kodak Company.

A mother of six, Juarez received an A.B.

Justine Juarez

from Wellesley College and an M.E.D. from Harvard University.

Lonardo, a Methuen resident, has been associated with Merrimack College since 1957 when he became a faculty member of the Continuing Education Division. In 1969, he joined the Division of Business Administration as a professor and in 1970 he was named associate director of business administration, with the primary responsibility of directing the work experience portion of Merrimack's Cooperative Education Program in business administration. He served as associate director for four years and then was appointed director of the Cooperative Education Program. He remained director until 1976 when he returned to teaching business full time.

From 1978 to 1981, Lonardo concurrently held the positions of chairman of the accounting and finance department and program director in accounting for the Division of Continuing Education.

Lonardo was formerly an economist for the U.S. Government for three years and he held various positions in financial management with General Electric Company for 17 years.

He received his B.S. from Northeastern University and his M.B.A. from Boston University where he was also a graduate teaching assistant. He is a member of the American Accounting Association, and the Association of Administrators of Accounting Programs.

Lonardo and his wife, the former Mary Piro of Lawrence, have three children.

Assignments At West To Be Given

All students new to the West Elementary School district should register during the week of Aug. 24-28 at the school office between 9 a.m. and 12 p.m.

As teacher assignments were not available prior to the close of school, the following procedure should be followed on opening day, Sept. 3. ## Reading Their Way To Stardom

The summer schedule in the Children's Room at Memorial Hall Library ended on Friday, Aug. 14, with a party for all those who participated in the "Read Your Way to Stardom" program.

Certificates were awarded to over 150 children who completed one or more constellation charts. Gene Park and Elizabeth Snyder, who had each completed four charts, received special commendation for their enthusiastic involvement with the program.

The success of the overall scheme was attributed to its flexibility in allowing each child to read as many or as few books as could be comfortably handled. The result was that some first graders this fall are already on their way to being competent readers. Many older children discovered new authors and titles or have improved their confidence in their reading skills.

Everyone who attended the party was a "star" and enjoyed a short movie followed by ice cream and jimmies. Those who completed charts and were unable to attend the party can pick up their certificates.

Outreach

Lawrence General Hospital (LGH) will present a three-part Community Outreach Series this fall at the Stevens Memorial Library in North Andover, focusing on topics that touch many of our lives.

The format for all will be a discussion between the speakers and those attending. Programs will begin at 7:30 p.m. and are open to the public free of charge.

The first discussion, September 23, will be on "Parenting". It is coordinated by Cathy Lane, R.N., of Westford, who has led the prepared childbirth education classes at LGH for three years, and previously worked in the nursery for 10 years.

Her children are Becky, age nine, and Bruce, age 13. She will be assisted in the presentation by Beverly Valle, R.N., of North Andover, mother of two children, and Celeste Mahoney, R.N., of Methuen, also mother of two.

Both women have also had experience as prepared childbirth educators and as LGH nursery nurses.

Oil Remains

For each barrel of oil produced from Georges Bank, one barrel of waste water will be generated and released from the derricks. After this water has been cleansed, 30 parts per million of oil still remain in it. Oil can be toxic to some organisms at 10 parts per billion, Mass. Audubon says.

Diet facts & fallacies

These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER

Never before in the history of mankind have people eaten so few foods in their natural state. Consumption of fresh fruits and vegetables is at an all-time low. Authorities are beginning to link the lack of fresh fruits and vegetables in the average diet with many diseases. Obesity is, in most cases, the result of an improper diet. People eat refined foods that are quickly digested. They provide calories for energy, but little "staying power." Drastic fluctuations in the blood sugar level cause craving for more food; and as a result, more processed foods are consumed to pacify this craving. The lack of bulk and roughage in these processed foods may also contribute to various maladies. Cancer of the colon is thought to more likely occur in an individual whose diet has not included adequate roughage. Fresh fruits and vegetables, eaten daily, will provide your body with nourishment, adequate roughage and bulk for good elimination. They will also keep you from feeling hungry or craving sweets between meals.

The fall season of the North Parrish Choral Society for adult voices will begin with the first rehearsal at Faith Lutheran Church in Andover at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday,

Luau At Faith Church

The echo of a conch shell will herald the start of pagentries for an outdoor fundraising luau to help relocate a Cambodian refugee family being sponsored into the Andover/Lawrence area by the Faith Lutheran congregation. The festivities begin Saturday, Sept. 12, at 6 p.m. at the Faith Lutheran Church, South Main Street and Wildwood in Andover.

Mai Tais served in fresh pineapples and hot Pu Pu hor d'oeuvres, poi, Mahi mahi, chicken and beef teriyaki, Hawaiian fruits and vegetables and, of course, the traditional roast pig, carried in-procession from the Imu (ceremonial cooking pit) prepared and supervised by Ulfert Esen, the chief chef for United Airlines New York. Direct-from-Hawaii shipment of authentic foods and flowers is made possible through United Airlines.

Later in the evening students of the Nancy Chippendale School of Dance in North Andover will perform Hawaiian and Tahitian dances and give hula lessons.

Tickets are available at Cole's Hardware, Thompson's Stationary and McGoff Realtors. Early reservations are encouraged since the number of tickets are limited.

For further information, contact Mrs. Ernest Edge, Timothy Drive, Andover, or Mrs. Rolf Oscarssen, Gemini Circle, West Andover.

French Festival

A French Festival will be held all day Aug. 29 at Derby Square, Salem. It will include food, entertainments and exhibits.

Diabetes Screening

There will be free diabetes screenings offered at the Regional Health Center in Billerica, 76 Treble Cove Road, Thursday, Sept. 3, 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Interested individuals should report to the Multi-Phasic Health Screening office, and, in order to obtain the most accurate results, should fast for four hours prior to the test. Appointments are advised and can be made by calling 667-2590.

Diabetes is a major factor in heart disease, circulatory problems and kidney disorders. It results when the pancreas gland does not make enough insulin—a hormone which permits the sugars and starches in food to be changed into energy needed by the body. As the disease has no visible symptoms, the only way it can be detected is by the quick, simple screening.

Condo Bylaw

in six months, at the earliest.

The selectmen last month voted to add a conversion permit fee of one percent of the gross selling price onto the bylaw if it stands.

While the selectmen listened to reasons why they should forget the condo conversion bylaw Monday night, Newton aldermen approved an even stricter city ordinance. The Newton ordinance would give tenants a two-year notice before they could be evicted from rental units, or five years for tenants who could show hardship due to the eviction, according to reports in Tuesday's Boston Globe.

Newton City Solicitor Daniel ~~Bank~~ is not optimistic that that ordinance will withstand the attorney general's scrutiny, however. He has advised Newton Mayor Theodore Mann that the ordinance is unconstitutional.

Atty. Freedman, representing Cohen Properties, presented a petition against Andover's court appeal to the selectmen before a full audience of townspeople at Memorial Hall Library Monday night.

Predicting that "ultimately the town will not prevail," Freeman suggested that the appeal would only hurt tenants by delaying final sales of the condominium units.

The uncertainty caused by the suit would make it more difficult for some tenants to obtain bank financing to buy their units, Freedman said, while others would hesitate to commit themselves to a sale agreement and therefore lose the 12 percent discount, which will not be available six months from now.

"I suggest the delay would work to the detriment of the tenants, and admittedly, to the owners," he told the board. "Six months or a year will pass. And in the meantime, there will be some damage done — there will be some harm."

Among the Washington Park residents who agreed with the attorney was Mary LaCouture. Citing Proposition 2½ and other budget constraints facing the town, LaCouture said she "couldn't justify spending money on a suit that would not seem necessary at this time," drawing enthusiastic applause from the audience.

She also pointed out that buying a condominium would offer some security to elderly apartment-dwellers who are currently faced with "the uncertainty of escalating rents, and the difficulty of finding an apartment."

Alex Hasbany of Washington Park praised the selectmen for developing the bylaw, but recommended they reconsider their appeal now "as the facts change," emphasizing that "over 60 percent of the residents have chosen to purchase" their apartments.

"You know and I know that the condominium is the coming thing of our society," Hasbany commented. "Washington Park will become condominiums — there's no question about that. Is it fair to have people sit and wait for six months?" he asked. "I feel quite confident that the attorney general's ruling will inevitably be sustained."

Later he added that more townspeople signed the petition than voted for the bylaw at town meeting; the article was passed with a 386 to 1 vote.

Loretta Santosuogso, who said she was an Andover resident of 15 years and planned to buy a condominium at Washington Park, pointed out that the Andover Gardens apartments off Haverhill Street were converted to condominiums a year ago without legal problems.

Several Washington Park residents called it "discriminatory" that they, unlike condo buyers at Andover Gardens last year, would have to pay the special permit fee — which the developer has said would be passed on to buyers — and wait for the court action to be settled.

Atty. Phillip Sullivan of Punchard Avenue reminded the selectmen that for many townspeople, condominiums represent the only way to own property. Saying that he would not like to see taxpayers' money "wasted on a frivolous appeal," Sullivan told the board, "Do what you may, but remember there are a lot more people in this town than just those who are over 60, or residents of Washington Park."

Two residents, however, spoke in opposition to condominium conversion early in the one-hour hearing, and strongly recommended that the selectmen continue their appeal.

Marjorie Batchelder, who called herself "a lifelong resident" of Andover, pointed out the difficulty of finding an apartment in town. "The selectmen represent the entire town — not just the residents of Washington Park," she said to applause.

And Barbara Marcoux of 90 Poor St. added that if no apartments are available for older residents who "have always paid taxes" after they sell their homes, those residents will be "forced out of Andover, and that's not fair."

Shattuck Farm Buildings May Still Have A Future

The Shattuck farm buildings, once part of a family farm that thrived for generations but now marooned in an industrial park, may be headed for a new future after all.

A few weeks ago, Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon indicated that the buildings might be doomed to destruction to make way for Digital Equipment Corp.'s plant in West Andover's Industrial Tech Park. At that time, no buyer had been found to take over the buildings and remove them from the former farmland that now belongs to Digital.

But Gammon said Monday night it now appears an Andover couple may buy all three of the historic wooden buildings, and move them from River Road onto a 12-acre site on High Plain Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Sullivan of 261 High Plain Road are prepared to sign a purchase and sale agreement next Tuesday with Arkwright-Boston Insurance Co., developer of the industrial park and current owner of the farm buildings, Gammon reported to the selectmen.

The Sullivans have discussed their proposal with the Board of Health, Building Inspector and acting Community Development and Planning Director Sam DeSalvo, as well as a private engineer, the chairman said.

Marsha Rooney of the Andover Historical Commission said yesterday the Sullivans' proposal has passed the town's permit approval process "with flying colors."

She added, however, that Arkwright still plans to consider two other proposals next Tuesday as well, and that the final decision is Arkwright's.

The Sullivans submitted their proposal to the historical commission, which recently requested proposals for reuse of the buildings. If they agree to buy the buildings next week, they will have to meet Digital's deadline for removal of the buildings: five weeks from now.

Their proposal calls for renovating the buildings into three private residences. They would be arranged on three separate lots, in a grouping very similar to the way they are now arranged, Rooney said. The Sullivans plan to keep the buildings within their family for the time being, she explained.

The Sullivans' land is a triangular-shaped parcel located between Route 495, Route 93 and High Plain Road, and is "very similar" to the River Road site where the farm buildings now stand, Rooney noted.

Rooney called the Sullivans' plan "an excellent proposal. I'm convinced they will carry it out really well, as far as the accuracy of the restoration of the buildings. We have all done everything we could to assist them."

The historical commission had hoped to preserve the buildings on site, or nearby within the industrial park, but after years of unsuccessful efforts recently sought proposals to move the buildings and restore them off-site.

The three buildings include an eighteenth-century farmhouse and a house once known as an ice cream stand, and a country store. At various times the farm belonged to the Abbot, Noyes and Shattuck families, and was farmed by members of those families for decades.

If the sale agreement between Arkwright and the Sullivans is successful, Gammon said Monday, "Then we will have one big party — we'll have saved the Shattuck Farm at last."

Some Walkers May Be Back On A Bus

If the school committee went along with the administration's recommendations last night, some 291 youngsters will be back on their buses come September.

The committee was to meet at 7:30 last night - after THE TOWNSMAN had gone to press - to act on the appeals of parents concerned about the safety of youngsters put off their buses by Prop. 2½. Parents are to be notified of those decisions in writing.

Asst. Supt. Charles Mitsakos, acting for Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert who was on vacation, was to recommend exceptions to the new busing policy, which restricts buses to elementary youngsters who live more than a mile and a half from school and secondary youngsters who live more than two miles. (That policy itself was expected to be given a final okay by the committee last night.)

Mitsakos said yesterday that parents of 525 would-be walkers had originally appealed to have their situations re-examined, for safety's sake. Those appeals were subsequently reviewed by a special safety committee, which determined that situations involving 147 of the youngsters were either "not potentially hazardous" or resolvable with the addition of cross-guard guards at key intersections.

The situations involving the remaining 378 youngsters were considered to be "potentially hazardous," and after further examination were ranked, with the most dangerous at the top of the list.

Finally it was determined that 291 of the 378 youngsters, or more than half of the original number for whom appeals were made, could be accommodated on existing buses with "some shuffling."

The committee had taken the stance that exceptions would be made only in the most severe cases. Since they made the decision to cut back busing during budget deliberations last spring, they have consistently said that they're more concerned about programs and that it's "what's at the end of the ride - or walk - that counts." They have estimated that they'll be saving about $100,000 by increasing the number of walkers by about 1400. They have called for cooperation of the community and have suggested that the safety of youngsters walking on Andover streets is as much a town problem as a school problem, due to the absence of sidewalks here.

No Manager Yet

"We still don't have a town manager," Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon reported to the crowd of townspeople who appeared before the selectmen on other business at Memorial Hall Library Monday night.

The board offered the manager's position to Bernard Murphy, 40, city manager of Sanibel, Fla., last week, and had hoped to formally appoint him Monday night.

It appears that Murphy has yet to accept the position left vacant by Jared S.A. Clark June 30, and that contract negotiations are still underway.

The selectmen emerged from an hour-long closed-door session with consultant Carl VanAsselt of the New England Municipal Center at the start of their regular meeting Monday. The board retained the consulting firm earlier this summer to help them screen candidates for the manager's slot.

Gammon apologized to the audience for delaying the start of the meeting by almost 30 minutes, explaining that the board had had "pressing business of the town" to deal with in executive session.

Borrowing Remains Short Term

The $13.72 million school building program will continue to be funded with short-term borrowing for the time being: The selectmen Monday night signed an additional $750,000 in bond anticipation notes with three local banks.

The notes signed by the board included one $250,000 note with the Bay State Merrimack Valley bank at a 7.95 percent interest rate, and another $250,000 note at 8.05 percent; $250,000 with Essexbank at 7.96 percent; $150,000 with the Arlington Trust bank at 8.40 percent, and $100,000 with Arlington Trust at 9.40 percent.

Acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi noted that the town has been able to obtain "quite exceptional" interest rates from local banks, as compared to the higher rates offered by banks outside the area, calling that a "positive" sign.

The notes signed this week are the third batch of bond anticipation notes used to fund the three-part project: $200,000 was borrowed last month, and $100,000 in March.

Last year, former Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark had counted on selling bonds to permanently fund the project this summer, but later suggested waiting until interest rates drop. The selectmen recent-

Nab Two In Theft Of Flag

Theft and desecration of the American Flag in Andover has become a rampant problem, but is felt to be a display of senseless vandalism and not part of any protest action.

Two local persons have been summoned to court by Andover police for the theft of one of two American Flags stolen from in front of town hall. Detective-Sgt. Donald Mooers said that investigation had resulted in the summons being issued to a pair of local people, with other similar thefts still under investigation.

As of early this week, two flags had been stolen from in front of town hall, one from Memorial Hall library and two from in front of the post office.

Veterans Agent John Lewis reported that the flag thefts from municipal property are particularly disturbing since in

Our High Values

Andover property owners can hardly be described as a joyous group this week, following receipt of their new property valuations established following the recent revaluation process.

For many, there had been an anticipation of an adjustment upward, based on the fact that revaluation considers inflationary values and also the court-ordered establishment of 100 per cent fair market value.

Based on those factors the increase could have been somewhat acceptable and even debatable under certain circumstances.

What people were not anticipating was the value placed on Andover land by the firm which performed the new examination of Andover properties and has established the new figures.

While there have been increases in building values reflected in the new figures, it is basically the land values which are causing the most concern to Andover residents.

In some cases small lots are valued at more than the buildings located on them. In other cases owners of larger parcels of land accompanying their buildings are finding the cost of those property holdings staggering.

This factor in the new property value is rightly disturbing to the townspeople who we feel can properly argue that the assessment is too high based on many reasons, not the least of which could be the town's expressed desire to limit the growth of the town.

The person owning a moderate to large lot of land with building(s) may be forced to sell off part of the land in view of the fact that it has become a luxury one can not afford. This will only encourage further development of the town in the long run, continuing to put pressure on the cost of providing services to an ever-increasing population.

Those who have been tagged with a high value on a large lot (but property unable to be sold or accommodate development) indeed will be penalized due to their desire to have and maintain attractive property in the town.

One of the key factors to be considered by those who will finally establish the values, should be the ability of an Andover resident to continue to afford to live here and maintain personal property in an acceptable and pleasant appearance.

From all reports, the indication being given by those who have received their new valuations, this will be a difficult chore.

In the intervening days and weeks before the figures are finalized, the PRC Jacobs firm representatives will be accepting calls from residents regarding their findings. They have already received numerous calls since the letters were mailed late last week.

Undoubtedly they will get the message that there is a general feeling that land values have been established too high and hopefully agree.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — August 1906

The last of the old commons buildings which have been closely linked with the history of Phillips Academy will be torn down during the summer. No new buildings will replace them and the land which they have occupied for about 100 years will probably never be built upon again. Oliver Wendell Holmes once occupied a room in the buildings which now yield to modern requirements.

The exterior of Carter's block on Main Street is receiving a fresh coat of paint this week. The color is a unique grey, giving a granite effect and is being put on by James Wood.

The statement issued by Dr. Harrington of the State board of health, relative to the quality of material found in various brands of canned meats, is a startling expose of the kind of food that an unsuspecting public is consuming. And yet, who has any reason for surprise at this condition of things? What is there today entering into the everyday life of the people that is free from adulteration?

The bricklayers employed in the construction of the John Esther memorial building on the Abbot Academy grounds by W.R. Wilcox Son and Co. of Boston went on strike recently, their demand of an increase in wages with a Saturday half holiday being refused by the contractors. The eight workmen involved in the strike were all skilled and were receiving $4.50 per day of eight hours. Their places were soon filled and the work at present is progressing rapidly.

The Centrals, a popular baseball nine of North Andover who have won many games this season, have purchased some elegant uniforms. The team presents a very neat appearance.

50 Years Ago — August 1930

Much construction is now going on at the Balmoral Spa. Perhaps the most significant piece of work now being done is the construction of a sixteen-foot sound screen adjacent to the dancing garden and along the river bank, to absorb the sound waves from the orchestra. The screen is to be constructed to represent a castle with its many buttresses, turrets and wings, and in one end of the structure will be installed a new soda fountain as a means of providing better service to the many patrons.

Andover property owners will have a tax rate this year determined by a new system of assessing, believed by the Board of Assessors to be far more accurate and satisfactory than the old system. The new method of assessing property is being applied for the first time and will cover the more densely populated section of the town, which has already been surveyed and checked for valuation.

The weather, which for five days prevented the laying of asphalt on the surface of the road, is blamed for the delay in finishing the new by-pass highway, running from Route 28 to the Lawrence-Salem turnpike, according to state engineers in charge of construction.

The traffic lights at the corner of Chestnut and Main Streets, which have been the cause of several complaints from motorists, have been readjusted, according to Frank M. Smith, chief of the Andover police department. For some time past, automobiles driving from Chestnut to Main had only ten seconds of right of way, while those going along Main by Chestnut, had a sixty-second right of way.

special town meeting in September. Rough estimates place the construction cost of the building at $700,000 and total cost at $922,500. The new building is a compact, one-story structure containing 41,075 square feet. The building surrounds a small courtyard.

Who is responsible for the delays in building the West and Shawsheen school additions? For an hour Tuesday night the school committee heard explanations and excuses from Leander Marion of the Louis Marion and Son construction firm and the architect, Perley F. Gilbert Associates. When they were through, Marion had promised to "do his best" to finish the school for September's school opening.

The selectmen are seeking bids on a continuation of the town hall modernization. They have called for sealed bids to be submitted on several additional portions of the long-range plan — modernization of toilet facilities; construction of the police locker room in the basement area; building the cell block on the first floor where the locker room is now located.

Civil defense organizations on the local and county level will have a major role to play in the civil defense training exercise, "Operation Alert 1956," which will be conducted next week. The training exercise, developed by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, the Department of Defense and the Office of Defense Modernization, will simulate a single massive attack with nuclear weapons directed against military, industrial and populated targets in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone.

A committee will be appointed to study the feasibility of providing an access road to the Lowell Junction industrial area, according to a vote of the selectmen this week. Town Manager J. Maynard Austin advised the board that the industrial development commission has recommended action in this regard in view of the expansion of the industrial park area and the possibility of land being unavailable at a later date.

The selectmen have unanimously rejected Carmel Woods as a site for new 80-unit senior citizen housing construction. The Andover Housing Authority had requested the board's assistance in acquiring the land from the Conservation Commission for such development. The Conservation Commission, however, had refused permission for use of the 10 acres of the land for development.

Paul W. Cronin, former state representative, president of CRG, Inc., has taken over the former J.P. Stevens warehouse properties off Railroad Street, across from the railroad depot. Cronin, who has moved his offices to the location, said he plans to rent the properties and is discussing the properties with prospective tenants at the present time.

Gerald H. Silverman, head of the social studies department at West Junior High, has been named assistant principal of Andover High School. Silverman, a Lawrence native and graduate of Lawrence High School, received his degree from Ithaca College. He has been active in professional organizations, serving at one time as president of the Essex County Teachers Association, and in a similar capacity for the Andover Teachers Association.

Not Dirt Cheap

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

"There's Gold in Them Thar' Hills" was a familiar cry in California during the 1849 Gold Rush. 132 years later this phrase echoed through the town of Andover, Mass. This time, however, it is one of the many reactions to the re-evaluation data mailed to Andover residents. As for myself, I am giving serious consideration to the idea of selling mineral or drilling rights on my house lot. In Shawsheen Village, land has been valued at approximately $3.93 a square foot or over $171,000 per acre. That ain't DIRT CHEAP!!

Build The Arena

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

Concerning Mr. Patracone's letter about the proposed sports arena, there is no mass transit or passenger rail enterprise anywhere in the country which does not operate at a loss. But most public authorities do not lose money. The Massachusetts Port Authority, the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority and the Woods Hole, Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket Steamship Authority, to name a few, have never cost state taxpayers one dime.

"Private investors" have been talking about a new arena for decades. Now is the time to stop talking and actually build one. The Arena Committee's proposal calls for just enough public incentives to get the job done.

To Be Tolerant

Dear Lord:

Help us to be tolerant of our dear sweet neighbors.

Help us to understand why it never worries them as they walk through our woodland that their children are drinking in our woods around merry little bonfires. Help us to understand why their children break their beer, liquor and wine bottles into thousands of pieces instead (Heaven help us) of just leaving the empties, plus the cartons, plus their underclothes.

Help us to understand those who cut live oaks when there are plenty of dying trees as a result of the last major forest fire set by the dear neighbors' children.

Help us to understand the neighbor who dumps his leaves, sticks, stones, bottles and cans on our land, and never on his own.

Help us to understand those who dig up the protected lady slipper, leaving hundreds of potholes across our land, or those who make wreathes out of protected princess pine. Help us to understand those who steal 500 feet of ancient boundary walls — which is a federal offense.

Help us to understand the snowmobilers trampling to the ground hundreds of young pines which will never recover and taking down walls for easier passage.

Help us to understand the unattended teenagers making love in the woods while their parents object to developments. The kids are causing the developments. How can the parents possibly object?

Eyewitnesses say FAA hid dangers of controllers' strike

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- The Federal Aviation Administration was less than candid with the American public in glossing over the safety risks created in the air controller crisis, according to non-strikers who helped man the control towers when the union walked out. These inside eyewitnesses question the claims by FAA and other government spokesmen that the substitutes were qualified for the nervewracking duties of directing the nation's air traffic.

One on-the-scene source advised us that at the New York radar center, a controller classroom instructor was brought in as an emergency replacement and immediately assigned to the radar screen in one of the most frenetic air patterns in the country. Our informant told us the instructor had had no on-the-job experience for four years.

Others at the New York center expressed concern over the qualifications of seven other newcomers to their control tower. They worried over slight mistakes committed by their new colleagues in directing jet-speed airliners arriving and departing the heavily used airfields in the New York area.

A pilot informed us that a fellow flyer was directed by the New York controllers to divert his plane to an upstate airport in fog conditions. On arrival there, the colleague discovered there were no controllers on the job to supervise his landing.

An FAA spokesman defended the assignment of the instructor to an active radar post on grounds that he was fully qualified and only lacked technical recertification of his credentials.

But we've seen a confidential government report compiled before the controller strike began warning that some supervisory personnel summoned to take charge of airport radar screens had neglected to keep up with their qualifying training.

Even more ominously, the report expressed alarm over the high incidence of computer failures detected in the air safety equipment. Investigators found at least one computer failure in air traffic monitoring every 63 minutes and a major computer crash every nine-and-a-half hours countrywide.

The FAA itself sounded an alarm signal that unless the computer system is improved, hundreds of airline passengers in the United States might be killed.

Meanwhile, we've also learned that the handling of the air crisis by both President Reagan and the union provoked dismay on both sides. Big business friends of Reagan were unhappy that the chaos in the air was seriously damaging an airline industry already in economic distress.

At AFL-CIO headquarters, labor leaders are critical of the strike tactics pursued by Robert Poli, president of the air controllers union. They're disgruntled over Poli's rejection of a last-minute offer by House Speaker Tip O'Neill to mediate the dispute during a six-day cooling-off period.

Veteran organized labor strategists also wonder about the wisdom of Poli's insistence on a hefty salary increase rather than concentrating on his union's more palatable demands for better health and safety conditions sought by his workers.

ILLEGAL GREASE: Two junior U.S. attorneys angrily quit their jobs shortly after Sen. John Danforth, R-Mo., arranged a behind-the-scenes meeting between their superiors at the Justice Department and representatives of the Missouri-based McDonnell Douglas firm on charges the aircraft firm illegally greased the palms of officials in five foreign countries to land lucrative contracts.

On behalf of one of his state's most influential companies, Danforth set up the high-level Washington meeting last May without the knowledge of the two departmental subordinates preparing the case for trial. In their irate letter of resignation, they wrote: "It is sadly ironic that a corporation, which has been charged by a grand jury in connection with the purchase of improper influence and under-the-table dealings in foreign countries, should be permitted by the Department of Justice to engage in back-door approaches."

They were unaware of an even more intriguing connection between Danforth and the company. The day before the backstage Justice Department meeting, the Missouri senator's re-election campaign committee was pledged $8,000 by McDonnell Douglas board members and their relatives. One of the contributors was a corporate official accused in the overseas bribery case. An aide told us Danforth was offering normal constituent service.

PATCHWORK PROGRAMS: The recent mission to the United States by Egyptian leader Anwar Sadat was aimed more at a hard-sell effort to obtain big business investments in his country than it was at statecraft with the Reagan administration. Billions of dollars poured into Egypt by American taxpayers have failed to keep Sadat's arid economy afloat.

During his visit, Sadat made a studied appeal to a prestigious U.S. Chamber of Commerce meeting urging greater American investment in Egypt.

There were some dubious listeners in his audience of big businessmen. Many were aware that foreign aid to Egypt has produced only short-term patchwork programs, that few construction projects have been completed and that not one agricultural venture has advanced beyond the pilot stage.

Furthermore, private international business investors are appalled to find that U.S. equipment sent to Egypt is gathering dust while venal officials wheel and deal for personal baksheesh. They're convinced that dollars sent to Egypt do little more than make rich Egyptians richer. Many low-interest loans produce few new jobs but wind up, instead, in the coffers of Cairo millionaires with ties to Egypt's ruling elite.

Brooks Swimmers At 2-1

Brooks Swim Team is in the midst of its best season ever. Brooks had a record of 2-1 with wins against Rye Beach Club and Vesper Country Club, going into a meet against Haverhill Country Club. The meet went to the final relays and Haverhill touched Brooks out to win 214-209, the closest Brooks has ever come to Haverhill.

Against Haverhill Diane Sagaser and Julie Gilbert were high point scorers for Brooks with four wins each. Sagaser won the 14 and under girls 50 freestyle, 50 backstroke and 50 fly. She is undefeated this season in both the freestyle and backstroke. Gilbert won the 12 and under girls individual medley, 50 freestyle and 50 breaststroke. Sagaser and Gilbert teamed with Maureen Costello and Michelle Gilbert to win the medley relay.

Andy LeBouage won the 12 and under boys 100 individual medley and 50 backstroke and placed second in the 50 breaststroke. He has not been beaten in backstroke this season.

Al Frizelle was first in boys 14 and under 50 freestyle and 50 butterfly and second in the 50 backstroke. He is undefeated this season in butterfly. He anchored the winning freestyle relay, swimming with teammates Matt Kilby, Mark Jurgen and Gary Domoracki.

Terry Landry won the girls 17 and under 100 individual medley and 50 butterfly and placed third in the 50 backstroke. She is undefeated in the 100 medley.

Other first place finishers were Maureen Costello in 17 and under freestyle, Michelle Gilbert in 10 and under breaststroke, Matt MacVicar in boys 10 and under breaststroke, Sandy Pelc in 14 and under breaststroke, Doug Wayland in 14 and under breaststroke, Mark Jurgen in 12 and under butterfly, Matt King in 12 and under diving and Carrie Poiror in 13 and over diving.

Taking The Wheel

A person who's not sitting in the driver's seat should never take the wheel. The ALA Auto and Travel Club warns that only a minute of such driving could cause a serious accident. So instead of reaching for something yourself while driving, ask your passenger to get it for you.

Andover Gold Completes Sweep

By Rick Harrison

Andover Gold completed a sweep of the regular season and playoff championships in the Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth League (13-15 years) by outslugging Andover Blue 12-8 in last week's playoff final at the Andover High field.

The victory was the 17th straight for Gold, which put together the finest season ever for an Andover Ruth team enroute to an impressive 24-2 overall record.

Gold moved through the double-elimination playoffs unbeaten at 4-0, chalking up earlier victories against Prospect Hill (12-0), North Andover (1-0) and Blue (12-3).

Blue finished the playoffs with a 3-2 mark, having beaten South Lawrence East (7-6) and South Lawrence West (7-2 and 12-0).

Gold, whose only losses of the season came against North Andover (1-0) and Blue (11-0), had a three-game exhibition series scheduled this week with a strong Billerica All-Star squad featuring several high school varsity players including Tom Glavine and Duke Purdy.

Gold had surrendered only 11 runs in its previous 12 games before becoming entangled in the slugfest with Blue.

There were 29 hits in the game, 15 by the losers and 14 by Gold. Blue's safeties included a homerun and two doubles, while Gold hammered a pair of doubles and three triples.

Lefthander Billy Vickers pitched the first six innings for Gold, chalking up his sixth straight victory and hiking his overall record to 8-2. He walked only one (intentional) and struck out five.

Mark Lefebvre hurled the seventh for Gold.

Tom Powers, the first of three Blue pitchers, took the loss. He was followed to the mound by John Geiger and Kurt Smith.

Gold smacked a double and two singles in the top of the first, but failed to score. Mark Grams led with a double down the leftfield line, and Kraig Burzlaff beat out an infield hit with Grams holding. Grams

Shriners Night At Red Sox

Pre-game festivities will be provided by uniformed units of Aleppo Temple Shriners of Wilmington at 7 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 27, before the baseball game between the Boston Red Sox and the Oakland Athletics.

"Shriners Night" at Fenway has been a yearly event and the sea of red fezzes will blazon the stands as hundreds of Shriners root for the home team.

Included in Thursday's marching Shriners will be the Shriners Brass Band under the direction of band master Walter Smith.

The group will be headed by Illustrious Potentate Earle D. Leake and officers of Aleppo Temple.

A special Shriners section has been reserved and entrance to these seats will be at Gate "B." Potentate Leake will throw out the first ball.

Clean Windshield

One way to overcome the poor visibility conditions caused by rainy weather is to wipe your windshield wiper blades with a clean cloth before turning them on. A clean windshield, inside and out, is a must for driving safety. If you're a smoker, the ALA Auto and Travel Club urges you to clean the inside of your windshield at least every two weeks; otherwise, light reflected on that smoke film can blind you at night.

was subsequently picked off second by catcher Bob Rikeman. Billy Vickers slapped an opposite-field single to left, but Blue escaped by turning over a sharp 6-4-3 doubleplay.

Blue took a brief 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first on singles by Robby Wilson. John Geiger and an error.

Gold retaliated with six runs in the second, sending 11 batters to the plate. The key strokes were a long two-run triple to left field by Mark Lefebvre and an RBI single by Billy Lane. Steve Dougal plated a run with an infield out, and helping the cause were three walks and two Blue errors.

The Blue bounced right back with two runs in the bottom of the second, making it 6-3, as Mike Surette singled, took second on Wilson's infield out, and scored on Powers' single. Mike Gibson then singled home Powers.

Gold scored once in the third when Lefebvre laced a single, took second on a balk, stole third, and scored on a throwing error.

Blue notched a run in the last of the third as Geiger ripped a leadoff single, and he came across on Brett Larrabee's two-out single.

Gold upped its lead to 9-4 in the fourth. Rob Wilson drilled a one-out single. Scott Zimmerman belted a two-out RBI triple, and Zimmerman raced home on a wild pitch.

Three more Gold runs in the fifth boosted the lead to a comfortable 12-4. Brian Finnerty walked. Mark Grams slammed his second double. Billy Vickers banged a long two-run triple to right-centerfield, and Steve Dougal laced an RBI single to leftfield.

Blue collected a run in the last of the fifth when Geiger scorched a double to left and scored on Kurth Smith's single.

The losers added another run in the sixth on a single by Gibson and a double by Bob Rikeman.

In the seventh Surette was safe on an error, and Robby Wilson lined a homerun to leftfield that skipped past the Gold outfielder and kept rolling.

The 14-hit Gold attack featured two safeties apiece by Billy Lane, Rob "Mr. August" Wilson, Mark Grams, Mark Lefebvre, Scott Zimmerman and Billy Vickers.

John Geiger and Mike Gibson contributed three hits each for the Blue while Kurt Smith, Brett Larrabee and Robby Wilson added two apiece.

Award To Salem

Salem, Massachusetts, a city whose historic center has undergone a dramatic transformation in less than a dozen years, received the Boston Society of Architects second Urban Design Citation on Sunday, Aug. 16, during its annual Heritage Week festivities. The award was presented by Earl R. Flansburgh FAIA, President of the Society which is a chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

On Oct. 8, 1918, a young Tennessee corporal named Alvin York singlehandedly captures 132 German soldiers and put 35 machine gun nests out of action.

One of New England's busiest ports at the time of the American Revolution and well into the 1800's, Salem was left behind as people and industry moved westward and experienced virtually no growth until after 1950. Surrounded now by carefully restored buildings of Salem's heyday, the Society's Urban Design Committee had seen the past economic doldrums as a hidden blessing because more prosperous times might have been the occasion for extensive rebuilding and loss of historic structures.

The meeting grew heated when Selectman Jerry Silverman told Freedman that the tenants who had made deposits on their units recently received "a handout", urging them to contact the selectmen and recommend the appeal be dropped.

Noting that the flyer was unsigned and without a letterhead, Silverman asked the attorney where it had come from. Freedman replied that the letter was sent to Washington Park residents by Cohen Properties.

"It was a scare tactic to put pressure on this board," the selectman charged.

Freedman denied that, explaining that the letter had no letterhead because the developer does not have stationery. "We apologize if you interpreted it this way (as a scare tactic)," he said.

Silverman and Selectman Donn Byrne also asked why rents were raised in May, and will be raised again Sept. 1, for residents who have already made deposits to secure their own units. Silverman contended that the developer was trying to force tenants out of their units by raising the rents repeatedly.

The attorney answered that there is "no connection between" the deposits and the rent increases. "Credit for the rent increases will be applied against the purchase price," he explained. Freedman added that the rents were "competitive and not unreasonable."

"We have no interest in forcing (tenants) out," Freedman said. "What good does a vacant unit do you? It doesn't make any sense for anybody to try to do that."

Borrowing

ly indicated that they would prefer to sell the bonds soon, rather than continue to borrow on bond anticipation notes.

However, earlier this month John Begley of New England Merchants Bank advised the board to wait at least six months before selling the bonds to get the most favorable interest rates, as Clark had recommended.

There was no further discussion of when the bonds might be sold Monday night.

Construction of the school building program to remodel Andover's three secondary schools is now underway. The project was approved by 1980 annual town meeting.

Scheduled for completion in September 1983, the project calls for renovating the Doherty School into a junior high school, using the Memorial Auditorium wing of East Junior High and building a new addition onto Doherty; building a new 1,250-seat auditorium at Andover High School, along with some classroom renovations; and building a new Instructional Materials Center (I.M.C., or library) along with classroom renovations at West Junior High.

many cases they are donated to the town in memory of deceased veterans. Andover has a policy of flying the flag at half-staff when a local veteran dies. Often the family gives the flag from the services to the town and it is flown from either the town hall, library or safety center.

Lewis also reports that the small flags on graves in Andover cemeteries are being ripped off and, in some cases, were found burned in another display of senseless vandalism. Andover veterans organizations and the Patriotic Holiday Committee visit the cemeteries prior to Veterans Day and Memorial Day every year replacing the small flags on the graves of all veterans.

Forum

Help us to understand the stolen and abandoned vehicles with glass smashed all over our woods.

Help us to understand the cabins with pornographic pictures on the walls and unsafe stoves. Help us to understand the tree houses made from stolen lumber.

Above all, dear Lord, help us to understand those who plant trees on our right of ways.

Help us to teach wood lore to those who do not understand that the pine matures, and, like hay, must be cut, for the next step is glorious rot.

We pray, oh, Lord, that these neighbors with their desire for green land have to and help us pick it up. Help these neighbors to understand the rights of the landowner. But also, oh, Lord, help us to understand those landowners with less than 30,000 square feet and their reasoning.

Help us to understand educated adults who can be so obsessed with stupid trivia while there are so many suffering and hungry people in the world.

Help us to understand why anyone who has moved into Andover would ever dream that they would be the last people to come to the town.

Help us to understand why our dust would be any greater than the dust we were submitted to when their houses were built or why we would ever pick a developer like theirs — rather than what we did. Grant us the humility, oh, Lord, to realize that from dust we came and to dust we shall return.

Help us to understand the trash dumped by the citizens of Andover — the delightful town where everyone wants to live.

Above all, dear Lord, help us to pay the almost $21,000 per year in taxes on a woodland.

Help us to remain loving and kind to our dear, sweet neighbors.

Amen.

Don't Overload

Overloading your car, a temptation for vacationers with a lot of luggage, can be disastrous in a number of ways, says the ALA Auto and Travel Club. Overloading not only damages the suspension, but also drags the rear of the car too close to the ground. And, by tilting the front end up, the extra weight can shoot your headlight beams into the eyes of oncoming drivers.

The Red Baron

The real Red Baron was the World War I German flying ace Baron Manfred Von Richtofen. He was dubbed the Red Baron because of the bright red plane he flew. After he was shot down over France on April 21, 1918, reportedly by Canadian flyer Roy Brown, this daring pilot was given a hero's burial by the Allies.

Homer Prints

Some 35 Winslow Homer woodblock prints and the Gustave Dore woodcuts from the "London Pilgrimage" of 1872 are featured at the Geraci Galleries, 6 South St., Rockport, this summer. The Homer prints, from Harper's Weekly and other publications between 1859 and 1874, are generally "open" with sunlight and space.

The Dore works show London as a city of "dreadful night," where factory and mill workers lived in slumlocked horror.

WHO ARE THE BUYERS?

Basically, there are three classes of people who look at homes. The first kind is in a hurry to move. They may have been transferred or already sold their present home or just want to make a quick decision.

The second kind has no sense of urgency. They are looking for a real bargain. They think that by buying directly from an owner they can save the commission, or worse, they want to find someone who is desperate to sell and buy the home for thousands of dollars under fair market value.

The third kind will never buy. They can't afford to or just don't want to - but they enjoy looking at homes for a pastime.

Studies show that 86% of classified home sale ads are run by REALTORS. This means that the second and third groups of non-buyers will be compressed into viewing only 14% of the ads. If you're serious about selling your home instead of just showing it, doesn't it make sense to list it with a REALTOR?

Bradlee School Sale Terms Now Being Established

Ballardvale's long-vacant Bradlee School has not yet been sold for conversion into multi-family housing, as authorized by town meeting two months ago, but the terms of the sale are now being established, the acting town manager reported this week.

The Bradlee School Reuse Committee, made up of Historical Commission members, Ballardvale residents and Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon, is currently discussing the terms with Francis P. Reilly, according to acting Manager Tony Torrisi.

Reilly has offered $2,900 for the building, and has proposed spending $500,000 to renovate it into eight living units, either rental units or condominiums.

Before the property is transferred to Reilly, the committee will establish conditions to see that the exterior of the historic building, nearly 100 years old, will be preserved, and that the grounds will be landscaped to include open space. Also under discussion are how much Reilly will actually invest in the property, and how many living units will be created, Torrisi indicated.

Abandoned by the town some 20 years ago, the Bradlee School has in recent years deteriorated into a target for vandals, leading former Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark to call it a "blight" on Ballardvale. This year's town meeting action resulted from the latest push by 'Vale residents and town officials to see the building rehabilitated and placed back on the tax rolls.

Two other prospective buyers, Charles

Matses Realty and John S. Dugger, Jr., offered bids on the school, but town meeting agreed with the reuse committee's recommendation that Reilly had offered the best proposal for the town.

Elm Square Redesign May Begin In Fall

The redesigning of Elm Square, once scheduled to begin this month, may begin in the fall, the acting town manager said Monday, but will not be completed this year unless the state can "guarantee there will be no major disruption of the downtown."

If the state can't make that promise, acting Manager Tony Torrisi said, the long-awaited project may not be completed until next spring — several months behind schedule.

The town submitted new plans for the project to the state Department of Public Works last week, he explained. The project will be funded by both the state and federal governments.

Torrisi said town officials will meet with the state soon to discuss a construction schedule: "We can't know for sure what the schedule will be until we discuss it with the state," he emphasized.

The town will seek assurances that "any disruption in Elm Square will be minimized", Torrisi said. And if the project is not completed until next spring, town officials want a "commitment" from the state to finance the project "beyond December and into the spring," he added.

Five years in the planning, the project to improve the traffic flow in Elm Square was most recently delayed in May, when the selectmen decided to eliminate a portion of Main Street from the project. New plans had to be drawn; they were recently completed at a cost of $2,000 by Pavlo Engineering Co. of Boston.

The problem with Main Street began last spring when federal officials decided that the section of the street included in the project — from the square to Chestnut Street — should be completely reconstructed, rather than just resurfaced, as originally planned.

But downtown merchants protested that the more extensive work would leave Main Street torn up during the Christmas shopping season, inconveniencing their customers and hurting business.

At the merchants' urging, the selectmen decided full-depth reconstruction was unnecessary, and voted to avoid it by striking Main Street from the project completely.

Now only Elm Square itself will be reconstructed. Main Street may be resurfaced in the future at a cost of at least $100,000, funded not with state and federal dollars, but at the taxpayers' expense, the board indicated.
